

WATERSHED SCIENCE BULLETIN

Journal of the Association of Watershed & Stormwater Professionals

A program of the Center for Watershed Protection, Inc.

Author Agreement

To enable the Association of Watershed Professionals (AWSPs) and the Center for Watershed Protection, Inc. (CWP) to publish your article in the Watershed Science Bulletin (the Bulletin), ownership of the copyright must be established. The article is deemed to include all material submitted for publication, and includes the text, figures, tables, author contact details and all supplementary material accompanying the article.

The primary author and each co-author are required to complete this form prior to article publication. Please read this form carefully, sign, and return by mail, email, or fax to:

Watershed Science Bulletin
Associate Editor
c/o Center for Watershed Protection, Inc.
8390 Main St. 2nd floor
Ellicott City, MD 21043
Bulletin@awsps.org
410-461-8324 (fax)

It is agreed that copyright in the article titled will be assigned to the Center for Watershed Protection, Inc. for publication in the Watershed Science Bulletin for the full period of copyright.

By signing below, the author _____ warrants that the article is an original work and has not been previously published in a journal or proceedings or submitted for publication elsewhere. In addition, the author warrants that permission has been obtained from the copyright holder to reproduce in the article material not owned by the author and that the author has acknowledged the source. The author agrees to indemnify, defend and hold AWSPs and CWP, and its staff harmless against any claims to the contrary.

In consideration for the author's grants as described herein, AWSPs and CWP agree to publish the article, and to market and distribute the published article in such style and format as it determines expedient, in both print and electronic format. AWSPs and CWP have complete discretion as to placement of the article and reserve the right to edit the article according to the Bulletin's standard format and style and in order to fit space constraints within the publication. AWSPs and CWP reserve the right to pull the article from publication at any time for any reason whatsoever.

Provided that the author gives appropriate acknowledgement to the Watershed Science Bulletin and full bibliographic reference for the article when it is published, he or she may use the article in the following ways:

- the author may share print or electronic copies of the article with colleagues;
- the author may use all or part of the article and abstract, without revision or modification, in personal compilations or other publications of his or her own work;
- the author may use the article within his or her employer's institution or company for educational or research purposes;
- 12 months after publication, the author may post an electronic version of the article on his or her own personal website and/or employer's website/repository. Electronic versions of the accepted article must include a link to the published version of the article together with the following text: 'The definitive version is available at www.awsp.org.'

All requests by third parties to re-use the article in whole or in part will be handled by AWSPs and CWP. All requests to adapt substantial parts of the article in another publication will be subject to the author's approval. By signing, the author authorizes AWSPs and CWP to act on his or her behalf to defend the copyright in the article if anyone should infringe it, although there is no obligation on AWSPs and CWP to act in this way.

Author's Signature _____ Date _____

If the author's employer claims copyright in the article, this form must also be signed by a person authorized to sign for and on behalf of the employer, as confirmation that the employer accepts the terms of this agreement.

Employer Signature _____ Date _____

Print Name of Employer _____